MONGOLS KILL BRAVE MAN

British Telegraph Operator Laughs in the Face of and Taunts His Executioners.

Pekin.—News has reached here of the tragic death of an English telegraph operator named Grant and his four Chinese companions. It seems that Grant, together with Mr. Henningsen, the Pekin superintendent of telegraphs, and other linemen, had been sent into Mongolia to repair the Chinese government lines. The party separated at Tuerin, Grant following one line and Henningsen another. The latter completed his work and returned to Pekin, where rumors were brought him that Grant had been slain. With Dr. Wolf and a Mr. Giles, Mr. Henningsen at once returned to Mongolia to look for the missing operator or to verify the rumors of his death.

When the party reached the place of the reported capture of Grant, he described the appearance of Grant to the local chief, who told him that such a man was in the camp of the Great Chief, 40 miles further on, but that he had joined the Mongols and would not leave them. When they reached the Great Chief's camp a Russian was found there who bore a striking resemblance to the missing man. In the camp they found Grant's belongings, his saddle, pipe and boots. They asked the Russian about them and were informed that the things had been captured from the Chinese.

Henningsen then became angry, and bitterly reproached the Russian. The latter replied that he had no idea the things had belonged to Grant. The Mongols had captured them all from the Chinese, and it was evident that the Chinese had killed and robbed Grant. Henningsen then turned to the Mongols and upbraided them.

"You must have known that this was not the man I was looking for," he said, "and as you have all my friend's belongings you must know what has become of him. I shall go and talk to the Great Chief."

One of the Mongols who had shown the party several courtesies then drew Henningsen aside and urged him not to indulge in any further questions.

"Your life and those of all the party depend upon your discretion in this respect," he said. "You will not find out any more here, but I can tell you that Grant had been killed. Go away in peace. If Grant had done that he would not have been killed."

Having discussed the matter the party decided that they could do no more, but they learned from other Mongols that Grant and the three Chinese had been captured, and that the Mongols had decided to kill the Chinese. Grant was told that he could go to Kalgan after his camera had been destroyed, but he refused to abandon the Chinese.

The Mongols gave him the choice of going away at once or being shot with the Chinese. Grant chose the latter, and as he stood in front of the firing party he taunted the Mongols with their cowardice and laughed in their faces until the Mongols wondered at his bravery.

POLICE TO WATCH CHARLTON

Alleged Wife Murderer to Be Guarded From Outsiders at Jail in Naples.

Naples, Italy.—Porter Charlton, when he arrives here, to be tried for the murder of his wife at Lake Como three years ago, will be taken in charge by a body of policemen and carabinieri, according to orders issued by the prefect and the chief of police. The instructions say that Charlton must not be allowed to communicate with outsiders. The officer in command of his escort will be held personally responsible for the safety of the prisoner.

Recovers for Loss of Disposition.
 New York.—Max Fenders' four-year-old daughter had a sweet, obedient disposition until the janitress of the apartment in which Max lived swatted the little girl with an ash can. After that the child became disobedient and irritable and a jury has just awarded Fender $100 for loss of the child's nice disposition.

Tows Airship to Port.
 London.—The British army airship Eta established a precedent by taking in tow a disabled airship and pulling it 14 miles through the air. By means of a cable 600 feet long the Eta, which rode 200 feet higher than the other machine to avoid collision, accomplished its task.

Truck Replaced Three Teams

In eleven months this three-ton KisselKar Truck covered in actual service 4,760 miles at a fuel cost of $1.08 per day. Manned by a driver and one helper, it replaced three teams of horses. The average daily burden was 37 17.20ths ton carried an average load of four tons—one ton overload—but in the entire period named, was laid up only two and one-half hours for repairs.

"We can recommend the KisselKar Truck and assure that it lives up to its guarantee," writes Thomas E. Fleischer, manager of the Sheboygan Lime Works.

Two and one-half hours for repairs, carrying over 37 tons per day is a record worthy of notice. KisselKar Trucks cost little to maintain and are economical to operate because the problem is solved in KisselKar construction.

Note these striking KisselKar features—Simple engine—easy to operate—reserve power—excess capacity—differential lock preventing one drive wheel absorbing all the power on slippery places, and stalling the truck—four speed transmitters geared up—fourth speed permitting high speed when desired without racing engine; 15 to 20 per cent. lower fuel consumption than average trucks—light spring suspension for power plant, heavy spring suspension for load—gauge that weighs load—greatest accessibility—easy control—larger brake drums, and extra powerful brakes—special bodies designed to meet every need.

KisselKar Trucks

1500 lbs.-1-2-3-4 and 5 Tons

In the range of capacity, 1500 lbs. to 5 tons, you can find just the type that fills your requirements—and with the KisselKar Truck goes the KisselKar Service, which is the manufacturer's guarantee of satisfaction.

KisselKar Service means taking off your hands all of the mechanical details. A special service building is maintained in this city for the benefit of KisselKar owners. The KisselKar service is a broad and comprehensive arrangement between manufacturer and owners that cares for the car, maintains efficiency, retards depreciation and minimizes upkeep. This service is a valuable consideration in the purchase of a power wagon. Investigate it.

Ask us to analyze your present horse haulage as compared to motor haulage. The result will be interesting.
